We Are Here is a new digital art installation, co-created with local residents.

Explore a series of interactive 'portals' peering into imagined versions of Selby Abbey's future, which react to your gaze.

Led by the thought-provoking and playful responses of people from the area, this work celebrates collaborative world-building as a means of reflecting the hopes and fears of a community.

We Are Here is commissioned by Mediale and North Yorkshire Council to launch the Now Then! Programme for Selby, Sherburn and Tadcaster.

Mediale is an international media arts organisation based in North Yorkshire. Working with technologically innovative and ambitious artists, they produce art with human connection, empathy and experience at its core.

Now Then! is a transformative, ambitious cultural development programme working in the three market towns of Sherburn, Selby and Tadcaster. Steered and developed by a partnership of community and cultural organisations, it will create joyful, memorable and authentic cultural experiences, which speak directly to the communities' needs and aspirations.

The installation will run 10.00am-4.00pm daily.
Visiting may be restricted during church service times, please check selbyabbey.org.uk before you visit.
